

integrated and simultaneous design pdf

SIIRoD system is a software that enables simultaneous and integrated approach to the processes of design, process planning and manufacturing and is the result of the integration of three software systems: PRoDi-CAD, PRoDi-CAPP and PRoDi-CAM [3], [4], [5]. The system integrates the activities above mentioned by integrating

Multi-Disciplinary Views for Integrated and Concurrent Design

Integrated and Simultaneous Design can be defined as a design process carried out in a systematic and structured way, with a parallel and continual iterative interaction between product, process and system design.
