Artificial neural networks (ANN) or connectionist systems are computing systems vaguely inspired by the biological neural networks that constitute animal brains. The neural network itself is not an algorithm, but rather a framework for many different machine learning algorithms to work together and process complex data inputs. Such systems "learn" to perform tasks by considering examples ...

A recurrent neural network (RNN) is a class of artificial neural network where connections between nodes form a directed graph along a sequence. This allows it to exhibit temporal dynamic behavior for a time sequence. Unlike feedforward neural networks, RNNs can use their internal state (memory) to process sequences of inputs. This makes them applicable to tasks such as unsegmented, connected ...

Since its launching in 1978, the journal Fuzzy Sets and Systems has been devoted to the international advancement of the theory and application of fuzzy sets and systems. The theory of fuzzy sets now encompasses a well organized corpus of basic notions including (and not restricted to) aggregation operations, a generalized theory of relations, specific measures of information content, a ...

Neural networks, or more precisely artificial neural networks, are a branch of artificial intelligence. Multilayer perceptrons form one type of neural network as illustrated in the taxonomy in Fig. 1. This article only considers the multilayer perceptron since a growing number of articles are appearing in the atmospheric literature that cite its use.

Fig. 1 shows a long degradation process of an impending fault in a machine, where an initial defect continues to proliferate, and eventually reaches a critical condition that causes the machine failure. We can conceptualize the task of diagnostics as an in-depth exploration of the failure to identify the leading cause after it has occurred, while prognostics is to investigate the problem ...
