This article will not help us "save our bones." Take for instance, drinking milk will NOT lead to decalcification of the bones. The one HUGE flaw with that argument is that the researchers acted on a flawed premise that a change in urine pH after drinking milk MUST mean that the metabolic pH changed which, in turn, leads to the excretion of calcium from our bones.

Christian mortalism incorporates the belief that the human soul is not naturally immortal; and may include the belief that the soul is uncomprehending during the time between bodily death and resurrection, known as the intermediate state. "Soul sleep" is an often pejorative term so the more neutral term "materialism" was also used in the nineteenth century, and "Christian mortalism" since the ...

"Eternal Father, Strong to Save" is a British hymn traditionally associated with seafarers, particularly in the maritime armed services. Written in 1860, its author William Whiting was inspired by the dangers of the sea described in Psalm 107. It was popularised by the Royal Navy and the United States Navy in the late 19th century, and variations of it were soon adopted by many branches of the ...
